

Dear Minneapolis Training and Education Providers

We are inviting you to an expanded meeting for the West Broadway Education and Career Center (WBECC). As we begin to map out the training, education and career pathways available to people in North Minneapolis we want to include the many quality programs provided by education and training organizations in the community. WBECC planning partners are committed to the “Community as Campus” approach to services that incorporates the good work of existing programs by providing pathways to and from current programs and avoids duplication of services or provision of services not aligned to the job market demand.

Pathways currently being planned include:

- Healthcare
- Information Technology
- Manufacturing and Trades

Please join us May 12 from 8:00 to 10:00 am at the Minneapolis Public Schools Davis Center. To assist in informing the discussion, bring copies of your program descriptions and learning objectives or send them in advance to Jess.niebuhr@minneapolis.edu.

As with all WBECC Community meetings, this meeting is open to the public.
